ABOUT THE FILM

When his best friend goes missing after a night out, a has-been hockey player sets out to on his own to get some answers, only to eventually receive the shocking news that he was found dead. Grieving, he ingratiates himself into the deceased's family, his widow and son, and actually suspects he might be the boy's real father. While in a sense taking over his friend's life doesn't feel unnatural to him, things get strange when the police start asking questions and the father of his dead friend gets suspicious.
